What We Do

Since its inception in 1968, the Northwest Missouri Regional Council of Governments (NWMO RCOG) has provided its member communities with an array of services. Through planning, program coordination, advocacy and technical assistance, NWMORCOG staff strives to make the region and its communities a better place to live, work, and play.

Much of NWMO RCOG's efforts continue to focus on the preparation and management of member communities' grant programs. Cuts to various programs have made our role more important for our members. When funds get tight, our staff works harder to capture dwindling resources and ensure the region remains competitive.

Services may also be provided to non-members, on a case by case basis, as long as resources are available.
